

8.7 Protection against malware — Found in ██████████ -Malware Protection Policy V1.1: The policy's stated purpose is to ensure anti-virus and anti-malware protection across information systems, with requirements for real-time protection, daily definition updates, and weekly scans.

8.13 Information backup — Found in ██████████ -Backup Policy V1.1: The policy's stated purpose is to define the need for performing periodic information system backups and includes backup and restoration procedures.

8.15 Logging — Found in ██████████ -Log Management Policy V1.1: The policy explicitly directs the establishment of requirements for creating, maintaining, storing, and accessing system logs, with detailed requirements for what shall be logged.

8.17 Clock synchronization — Found in ██████████ -Log Management Policy V1.1: The policy includes a dedicated section requiring all firewalls, switches, servers, and computer clocks to be synchronized with a centralized NTP server.

8.25 Secure development life cycle — Found in ██████████ -Secure Development Lifecycle Policy V1.0: The policy's stated purpose is to ensure information security is designed and implemented within the development lifecycle, with detailed SDLC requirements.

8.6 Capacity management — Found in ██████████ -Capacity Management Policy V2.0: The policy's introduction states its purpose is to ensure system resources are monitored, tuned, and projected to ensure required system performance, with detailed capacity planning and monitoring requirements.

Examples of controls without evidence:

5.1 Policies for information security

5.2 Information security roles and responsibilities

5.2 Information security roles and responsibilities